Using Online Databases to Locate Full-Text Articles, Citations and Abstracts

These databases are used to find magazine, journal, and news articles, as well as other resources, in electronic format. These are subscription pay-based databases and are not web sites. They can be used on campus by anyone. Off-campus access is available only to users with an Aims Web Services user name and password.

On Campus Access

- Go to the library home page at <http://www.aims.edu/kieferlibrary/index.html>
- Click on Databases & Article Search.
- Databases are listed alphabetically or by subject category.

Off Campus Access

- Go to the library home page Off Campus Access at <https://proxy1.aims.edu/offcampus.html>
- Type in your Web Services username and password.

Need your Web Services username and password?

- On the Greeley campus, obtain them at the Help Desk in the General Services building. Present your student ID or picture ID.
- Or ask a staff or faculty member to obtain them for you by calling the Help Desk. Present your student ID or picture ID.
