Statement of Safety Policy

Aims Community College is dedicated to aviation safety, we are committed to...

Creating a safe training environment through the promotion of aviation safety as a culture. Safety is paramount at all times throughout flight training and Aims Community College supports the principals of aviation safety management. All students, instructors, and staff are responsible for safety in all aspects of their relationship to Aims’ Aviation programs. Consciously minimizing risk, ensuring safe operations, complying with or exceeding regulatory compliance and college procedures, and aviation safety education are all requirements of our responsibility for aviation safety.

Participation in the Aims Aviation Safety Program is required and will help to continually develop and improve our safety processes to achieve a world-class standard of safety and education.

Good faith disclosure of a safety concern shall not be met with punitive action, unless such action is required by law. Failure to disclose a safety concern, however, may result in punitive action because disclosure of safety concerns is paramount to achieving the excellence in safety that is the first priority for Aims Community College’s Aviation programs.

Dr. Leah Bornstein, President, Aims Community College